QLD Echocardiography

Patient Information

- Echocardiography is the term given to the ultrasound examination of your heart. It is a test where high frequency sound waves are used to create a moving picture of your heart.
- Your heart's blood flow will be assessed and some heart sounds will be audible.
- No particular preparation is required for the test.
- A two piece outfit will be most suitable. You will be asked to change into a gown, so the sonographer may take ultrasound images of your heart through your chest wall.
- Your examination may take up to 45 minutes, but will often be shorter.
- You will not be exposed to any radiation during the examination.
- Under 18yrs require parent/guardian present.
